Out with the old, in with the new

In the early 2000s, CD sales were at their peak but with technology changing CD sales have gradually plummeted. Vinyl sales were popular for many years but then became dormant, they are now slowly making a comeback in the world of music. Now, there are hundreds of platforms to listen to music on, therefore streaming and subscription sales are the most popular in current times.

Money spent on music platforms

The rise and fall of money spent on music by platform from 1973-2018